

Treason

Treason- Whoever, owing allegiance to the United States, levies war against them or adheres to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort with the United States or elsewhere, is guilty of treason (see Title 18, USC. §2831).

Espionage

Espionage involves a government or individual obtaining information that is considered secret or confidential without the permission of the holder of the information.

Espionage is inherently clandestine, and is a subset of Intelligence gathering.

Sabotage

Sabotage is deliberate action aimed at weakening another entity through subversion, obstruction, disruption, or destruction.

In war, the word is used to describe the activity of an individual or groups actions result in the destruction or damaging of the productive or vital facility, such as equipment, factories, dams, public services, or logistic routes.

Subversion

Subversion is an act or acts inciting military or civilian personnel of the Department of Defense to violate laws, disobey lawful orders or regulations, or disrupt military activities with the willful intent thereby to interfere with, or impair the loyalty, morale, or discipline, of the Military Forces of the United States.

CI Threats

Traditional -- Hostile countries that openly target the United States

Non-Traditional -- threats today come in the form of terrorism, drug trafficking, serious communicable diseases, piracy, illegal immigration and information security.

Information Mercenaries -- Anyone who may seek intelligence information or access to the information for possible profit (i.e. Computer Hackers, Media, Aircraft Spotters, etc.)

Counterintelligence

CI incidents happen daily, and threats originate from various countries, groups, and individuals. The focus of the collection ranges from technological, to strategic, to terrorist.
